

True North Training Solutions Develops “management In A Box!”

By Phoenix Financial Network

Dated: Apr 12, 2010

New Business in a Box presents the Remote Control Management secrets for the FIRST TIME in a learn at your own pace format.

Based on the training principles previously only available to their private clients and group trainings True North has developed a special product they have dubbed their “Remote Control Management KIT!” Lead Developer Jerome Hess had this to say about the new package, “ Previously you would have had to read both of our Remote Control Manuals as well as attended over 14 hours of INTENSE and not inexpensive training in order to have access to this type of information. The development of the RC Kit was spurred on by numerous requests from managers and business owners who were unable to free up that kind of time in their schedules. Our ‘KIT’ will give these business leaders access to the same types of tools, at a fraction of the cost, all to be studied on their own time!”

Managers, do you want to know how to get the most out the team you have?
Learn how to perfect your presentations?
Reduce your team’s conflicts?
Improve interview skills to build the best team possible?

Then come learn how the "Remote Control Management KIT" can become exactly what you’re looking for.

Introductory pricing will be available at our ½ day training class on May 1st, after that the traditional price of $197.99 will be in effect.

This includes not only the Remote Control Manual but 4 instructional CD’s as well as several BONUS Disks that can help you AND your teams develop inside and outside the company.
