

True North Training Solutions to Feature Danny Chetram at Remote Control Management Class

By Phoenix Financial Networks

Dated: Apr 22, 2010

Award winning Speaker, Trainer and Real Estate Specialist Danny Chetram to present at True North Training Solutions May 1st Remote Control Management Training Session.

In a surprise Bonus for the attendees of their May 1st, 2010 Remote Control Management Session, True North Training Solutions will be hosting Award Winning Speaker, Trainer and Real Estate Specialist, Danny Chetram.

True North Training's spokesman Jerome Hess had this to say;" From the moment I first saw Danny Chetram give a presentation 6 months ago I have been trying to find a way to integrate him into some of our training sessions and finally we reached an agreement late last week that will bring him in and open up or Remote Control Management session." Jerome went on to add; "Danny's message is so powerful and comes at such an opportune time that this class will be receiving information that six months from NOW they will still be applying to every aspect of their businesses."

In addition to helping True North Training's Remote Control Management session Danny Chetram is also a Certified Human Behavior Consultant in the DiSC system and a Real Estate Specialist focusing in the West Central Florida area. Having just worked out his own series of classes at which he will be offering his knowledge Pro Bono for a private non profit group that will be using his material as its lynch-pin for success. Comments Jerome Hess;" Danny's schedule is filling up SO fast that I knew that in order to be able to offer our clients the best of the best we just had to take advantage of whatever time we could work into his schedule. I am absolutely thrilled that he is willing to work with us, and I know that our clients will be as well."

As announced earlier one other unique aspect of the May 1st training will be the debut of their "Remote Control Management Kit" The development of the Remote Control Kit was spurred on by numerous requests from managers and business owners who were unable to free up time in their schedules to attend our class. Our 'KIT' will give these business leaders access to the same types of tools, at a fraction of the cost, all to be studied on their own time!"

Introductory pricing will be available at our ½ day training class on May 1st, after that the traditional price of $197.99 will be in effect. This includes not only the Remote Control Manual but 4 instructional CD's as well as several BONUS Disks that can help you AND your teams develop inside and outside the company. Call IMMEDIATELY.
